With reference to the above . I object in the strongest terms to the planned industrialisation of some of the most unique and precious examples of our coastline being turned into oyster farms with all the visual blight that would entail. I feel so strongly that I would pledge physical resistance to any effort made to despoil the beauty and amenity that these strands have represented to past and future generations of Donegal people . We might not have a lot up here but by god what we have we will hold. No to this cultural vandalism!
